FACT: I was arrested on March 5, 2018 which 9 days later somehow resulted in the special March 14-15, 2018 hit job report by News 12/Altice about me “Facing Charges for Stalking Several Women” and “preying on women” at local supermarkets. The following March 10, 2018 Wall Street Journal article took off in popularity reiterating past similar types of articles and spawning new types of articles of this topic and current zeitgeist - supermarket encounters.

YES – SUPERMARKET DATING ENCOUNTERS - 2018.

The Hottest Social Scene in Town Isn't the Singles' Bar. It's the Supermarket.

As traditional community hangouts shrink, supermarkets are becoming the place where people meet to socialize—and even fall in love

The following is a list of articles that show within the American infrastructure (especially the suburbs) that supermarkets are the public square where people meet. Was Altice's very special story of a low-end one count of Second Degree Breach of Peace worth depicting me as some kind of serial “stalker”? Why was I not afforded proper Due Process of Law like 99% of other arrests (most more serious)? Why was I reported upon in such a way that is clearly at odds with not only aspects of the police descriptions but my undeniable and truthful criminal background check? This is a case happening in a public square – supermarket – that should have at least one video recording of any alleged one count of “getting into personal space” or what Altice says is “stalking several women” for these places are wired inside and out. A supermarket!

Was my behaviour fairly let alone properly reported upon by Altice? Of course not.

Just do the Internet search/Googling and see the hundreds of articles about this everyday behaviour I am accused of in this sick victim playing and conflating zeitgeist. Google “supermarket as dating sites” and see the results. You cannot do this for nearly all other public places outside of a bar and find the overwhelming material to support what I am concluding this document with – lets get real here – where was News 12's judgment?

It is obvious that some people are practicing approaches toward the opposite sex at supermarkets and it is also real to think some do not open themselves to this practice for various reasons like being married with family like what is partially the case with News 12's special cohort Wendy Higgins Chambers. No matter what perspective, the fact that it is a public place and there are never any damages done to anyone certainly deserve more details than the obvious special hit job I received. All I ask is if you are to dare tell a story then have the essential facts and witnesses so to draw proper conclusions. The only way now is a proper gathering of people who Altice believes are a verifiable source to stalking. Police were never interviewed, never deployed the stalking language in the Arrest Warrant, and never will claim this stalking for obvious reasons – they would be subject to a lawsuit.

Page after page of this - what? “.....” – what kind of behaviour? ... at the American suburban public square. Yes I have met a lot of people in this public square as future witnesses will attest to. Fact: To this day Wendy Higgins Chambers is the only woman who felt the need to press an unwanted supermarket advance into something persecutory like a actual police sworn written statement – none – no woman, and it is Wendy Higgins Chambers and only Wendy Higgins Chambers approaching multiple let alone one media outlet to push a crazy hidden and mentally imbalanced agenda. I invite Altice to bring any woman forward. Men have rights to express their grievances within a public square too and given the details of this popular setting I most certainly deserve a jury of my peers to decide if any such unproven and un-provable “stalking” or “harassment” or one-time alleged yet never proven “getting into personal space” or unwanted “approach” ever happened in the ways they have been so grossly and so extremely been portrayed by News 12 creating utter havoc and living on within other media 2+ years to this day.

Page after page on Internet search engines results of this innocuous behavior that is hardly some kind hard news story worthy of all the unproven and un-provable language/accusations directed at me in a constant forever damaging way given the Internet. I created no harm whatsoever and my arrest had nothing to do with the current MeToo accusations but became a story that is now worthy of a jury of our peers given the evidence and damages from the obvious persecution. I did nothing worthy of the kind of persecution I received from Wendy Higgins Chambers and News 12/Altice before and after Due Processes of Law thereby permanently damaging my reputation and future with ongoing Damages. If there ever was a low-end arrest to allow for Due Process of Law without hyping, misrepresenting, and outright lying about my behaviour it was certainly this case.

I mean really, given I have no conviction what is my legacy after this type of reporting that never would have happened prior to 2018 zeitgeist? How crazy is this article by Altice's reporter? It is no coincidence my persecution not only happened after the 2016 election and MeToo zeitgeist but interestingly at the same time as the March 2018 Wall Street Journal article on supermarket dating. It is obvious Altices's reporter was not experienced to judge this situation (let alone dubiously ascertained Arrest Warrant) while doing his very special hit job report before and after Due Processes of Law.
